WEDNESDAY JUNE, 13.

Of course it hasn't. But the democrats under Cleveland, like South Carolina under Calhoun, are ready to sneeze whenever their president takes snuff. This principle was never more clearly illustrated than at the St. Louis convention. In the convention, the delegates did the bidding of Mr. Cleveland. They cheered him in the hall, but slandered him in the streets and in hotels. As a delegate to the national convention, Watterson sneezed when Cleveland took snuff, but as editor of the Courier-Journal, he denounced the platform on which Cleveland decided himself to run, calling it a piece of hypocricy and fraud. So the Birmingham (Ala.) Age, a democratic newspaper, sneezed vigorously when the St. Louis convention took the Cleveland snuff, but when the convention adjourned it said: "England is delighted with the drift of political affairs in this country; and England is our greatest competitor even in our own markets, and will become a still more formidable one if the tariff for revenue only theory is adopted." It then goes on attempting to demonstrate that Cleveland's tariff policy would materially injure the best interests of the United States, and adds. "Make the laws more favorable for the competition—give her a half a chance—and she will take absolute possession of our markets. Now, as to the effect on our American wheat-growers. The more wheat grown in India the less foreign demand for American wheat, and consequently the less the price. While English manufacturers are being shut out from he colonial markets in India, and are seeking—and are being encouraged—to enter our markets by reason of tariff reform measures in their favor, what should we do? Protect our home industries so as to keep out undue English competion; build up and encourage manufacturing enterprises, so as to increase the manufacturing population, and thus consume the present surplus of field products and breadstuffs now sold abroad."

This is the right kind of tariff doctrine because it tends to build up a nation and strengthen the homes of the working people. But isn't it a little singular that the Birmingham Age, when it has before it so many evidences of wonderful prosperity of the south under home protection, would support an administration whose policy tends to break down the industrial conditions of this country?

Senator Cullum thinks it is inevitable that we shall elect our ticket this year if no blunders are made. "The Solid South will meet with a responsive Solid North this year, beyond any question. I believe we will carry every northern state. Oregon has indicated the drift, and the rejection of Governor Gray in the democratic national convention makes us sure of Indiana." That little word "if" is a very big thing to contend with. "If" the convention does not nominate a man who will freeze up the campaign before the warm months have passed, and "if" the second place on the ticket is given to a man who can carry, beyond doubt, one of the doubtful states: and "if" the national committee does not show its personal animosity as it did in 1884, then the republicans will win.

The Portland Oregonian suggests a way in which the democrats might reduce the surplus—

"No tariff for surplus!" is the cry of democratic orators at St. Louis. Then suppose you take the tariff from sugar. That would cut off $60,000,000 at one stroke—just about the entire annual surplus, and would cheapen one of the principal necessaries of life to every inhabitant of the United States. But will you do it? You will not, because the southern planters, who make democratic majorities, and the New York Sugar trust, that puts up for the democratic campaign fund, don't want the surplus reduced that way.

That is about the size of it. The democrats won't take the duty off sugar because they don't want to interfere with the industry of a state which is always ready to give any democratic majority which the managers of the party want—a majority manufactured at all times to suit circumstances. By one stroke, the surplus revenue too, could be wiped out, and sugar, one of the most important articles used by the poor as well as the rich, put on the free list. But it is a fact that the democrats do not want the taxes taken off any article produced or manufactured in a state that is solid for Cleveland.

Now that the affair is over, perhaps Mr. Cleveland is looking around to see how many office-holders violated the civil-service rules by going to the convention. It is not known whether the guilty wretches will be punished by dismissal or promotion.—Philadelphia Press.

He will find, so one report says, between sixty and seventy office-holders who were in the St. Louis convention shouting for Cleveland. But Cleveland was a good deal like the German colonel of an Illinois regiment during the war, when he halted his command one day in a section of country where foraging was prohibited by an order from General Sherman. The colonel knew his boys were hungry and that foraging would be good, and so when the regiment stacked arms, he said, "I shut mine eyes for two hours and I sees nothing." Cleveland shut his eyes during the St. Louis convention and did not see a single federal office holder in the convention.

The students of American industrial conditions and labor problems can do no better than studying the condition of the workingmen in Europe. Reports from Holland show that the average wages of the Dutch laborer are $3 a week (he works twelve hours a day) and for skilled labor of a very high class not more than $1.50 to $5 is paid—scarcely more than carpenters and bricklayers receive here for a day's work. Not one day-laborer in Amsterdam owns his own home, and the idea that skilled workmen in this country may earn enough to buy houses for their families is incredible to artisans of the same class in Holland. Holland enjoys the blessings of free trade. Do American workingmen hanker after blessings of this sort.

PREPARING FOR BLOODSHED.

War Declared Against the Chickasaw Nation Cattlemen—A Serious Situation.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., June 13.—Some time ago the cattlemen of the Chickasaw Nation, of the Indian Territory, resisted the collection of the cattle-tax of one dollar per head for cattle grazing on Indian lands and drove the collector and his deputies away with violence. The Governor was notified, and through him the United States Government. A peaceful settlement was attempted but without result favorable to the Indians. The cowboys began to assemble, and now about 500 are rendezvoused in the southern part of the nation. Governor Guly has ordered out the National militia—about one hundred Indians—and they are assembled now at Ardmore, preparatory to a move upon the cowboys. Captain McLish was put in command of them, and he has orders to move at once. The camp has been in a stir getting ready for the campaign, and it is expected the troops will be on the march to-day. They will move cautiously, as it is feared they are not strong enough to combat the cattlemen, who are armed with Winchesters. Many of these men are citizens of the nation, and it is feared that this is the first outbreak of a civil war. The Government troops at Fort Reno are prepared to take the field in case the Chickasaws can not quell the disturbance.

SHERIDAN'S APPETITE GROWING.

He Is Reported to Be Improving—Death of the General's Mother.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—All the reports from General Sheridan say that he is doing remarkably well. He relishes what he eats and his appetite seems to be growing. He rested quietly during the day. The latest bulletin, issued at 9 o'clock last evening, says:

"There is no change to be observed in General Sheridan's condition. It continues to be substantially the same. His pulse is 104 to 106, of fair volume and tension. His coughs very little, and his respiration remains irregular. He takes plenty of nourishment, without indications of failure of digestion or assimilation."

12:15 a. m.—General Sheridan's condition remains the same as when the 9 o'clock bulletin was issued. He has rested quietly and comfortably since that time and every thing is going on smoothly. He has not been informed of his mother's death, and probably will not be for several days yet.

dan, and the mother of General Philip H. Sheridan, died at her home in Somerset yesterday afternoon.

[Mrs. Sheridan was born in Ireland in March, 1801. The family came to Somerset from Albany, N. Y., about 1830, soon after Philip's birth, and the little house which they occupied for fifty years still stands in the village, although latterly Mrs. Sheridan's home has been in a large and handsome residence a mile east of the town. When in feeble health for some years she retained her faculties surprisingly well, and was very active and well preserved despite her advanced age. Last Thursday she contracted a slight cold, which seems to have been the only cause, although death was due more to extreme old age than any thing else.]

FREDERICK IS FAILING.

The Emperor Has a Relapse—His Physicians Admit That He Is Now in an Almost Hopeless Condition—The Crown Prince Summoned to His Bedside.

BERLIN, June 13.—The Emperor's disease has taken another turn, and the doctors now admit that he is in an almost hopeless condition. The change was first made public yesterday morning, when it was announced that the difficulty in swallowing which had troubled the Emperor has increased. Through some changes, of the exact nature of which the doctors are uncertain, the cartillage of the epiglottis has become permeable, allowing particles of food and liquids to enter the air tubes the result being attacks of coughing and choking. When the Emperor had partially overcome the difficulty in swallowing he had such a distaste for food that he refused it. The result was a great decrease in his strength. It is reported that if he does not improve a regency will be appointed to-day.

There is a report that the Emperor had another serious relapse last evening, and the fact that the Crown Prince was summoned to the palace at midnight seems to confirm the report.

FAIRFIELD.

—J. O. Serl has his new dwelling house nearly enclosed.

—David Dykeman is making a tour of the great northwest.

—Milton Wilkins has been quite sick for the past week, but is much better at present.

—Robert Moore started last week on a business trip through Iowa and Nebraska.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Aoly and daughter, of South Grove, took in the concert last Sunday evening.

—Miss May Williams, of Darien, is spending a few days visiting friends in this vicinity.

—Miss Kate Clows returns to her home at Salem this week.

—We are sorry to report that Miss Cora Rokenbrodt has not been as well for the past week.

—The entertainment provided for Children's day was a decided success. The church was finely decorated and the music and recitations well rendered. Miss Cutter had been untiring in her efforts to make it an interesting occasion, and is to be congratulated on the success of her labors. Mrs. D. Dykeman is entitled to much credit in preparing the music for the occasion and conducting the same; also thanks are due to the young ladies and gentlemen who spent their time in preparing decorations, etc. Bros. Waterman and McCarty as ushers performed their duty in a gentlemanly manner. There was but one unpleasant thing—the loud applause—which was out of place in a Sunday evening entertainment and was disapproved of by many present.

A MODERN BORGIA.

Mrs. Whiteling, of Philadelphia, Makes an Awful Confession.

HOW SHE GOT RID OF HER FAMILY.

She Administers a Deadly Drug to Her Son and Baby Daughter, and Gives Her Husband Poison with Which to Kill Himself.

SLEW HER LITTLE ONES.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 12.—A decided sensation was caused in the coroner's office yesterday by Mrs. Sarah Jane Whiteling's voluntary confession that she had poisoned her two children and that she had furnished her husband with the poison with which, she declares, he took his own life on account of despondency caused by poverty. Mrs. Whiteling's victims were her husband, John Whiteling, her 9-year old daughter, Bertha, and a boy, Willie, 3 years old. The family lived in poverty. The husband died on March 20 last, the girl on April 24 and the little boy on May 26. Detectives worked at her for a confession, but until yesterday were unsuccessful. Finally the woman broke down from the weight of her awful secret and made a clean breast of the whole affair, and when taken before the coroner yesterday she detailed to that official with great minuteness how she had poisoned the children. She said:

"I gave Bertie the first dose of the poison on April 21, and on April 24 she died. I put one spoonful of the stuff in a glass of water and called the child to me and said: 'Now, Bertie, here is some medicine; you must take it like a good girl,' and I gave her one spoonful. It made her sick and when the doctors prescribed some powders to be given in water I bought the medicine, but gave her a spoonful of the poison every half-hour instead. It made her so very sick and she suffered so much that I felt sorry, and the day before she died I stopped giving her poison and gave her the medicine, but it was too late. Little Willie died the same way. I had insurance placed on each child only a short time before they died."

When asked if she had given poison to her husband she woman stoutly maintained that he had taken his own life.

"I killed Bertie because I was afraid she would grow up in sin and crime, as she was a bad child and had stolen pennies from the neighbors, and once she stole her school-teacher's pocket-book. The boy I killed because he was in the way. I am sorry now for what I have done and want people to pray for me."

A certificate of death from natural causes was given by the attending physician in all cases. Mrs. Whiteling professed great piety, and on Sunday last she went to a church in the neighborhood of her home, and, kneeling at the alter-rail, asked the prayers of the congregation for the forgiveness of her sins. Post-mortem examinations disclosed the fact of the poisoning, and the woman was arrested on Sunday night. There were policies of insurance on the lives of the woman's victims, each of them being for a small amount, but amounting in the aggregate to $300, all of which she collected.

Mrs. Whiteling was married in Clinton, Ia., in 1868, to Tom Brown. The couple came to this city from Chicago, after the great fire, and a few years afterward Brown was sent to prison for highway robbery, and died there. The woman married John Whiteling in March, 1880, her child Bertha being then about 9 months old. Its father was Thomas Storey.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS.

The State Central Committee Selects Francis A. Hoffman, Jr., of Chicago, as the Candidate for State Treasurer, the Regularly Named Candidate Having Withdrawn.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13.—Francis A. Hoffman, Jr., of Chicago, was chosen yesterday by the State Central committee to fill the vacancy on the Democratic State ticket caused by the refusal of Charles H. Walker, of Chicago, to accept the nomination as State Treasurer. The committee accepted the resignation of Erskine M. Phelps, of Chicago, and elected John C. Campbell, of Streator, chairman of the State Central Committee to fill the vacancy. Dr. Walter Watson, of Jefferson County, was elected to fill the vacancy in the committee caused by the resignation of S. L. Dwight, of the Nineteenth district. The committee decided to recommend to the State convention of Democratic clubs the election of a grand marshal of the State, who shall have personal supervision of party demonstrations during the campaign.

TAMMANY RATIFIES.

Governor Hill Speaks for the St. Louis Ticket and the Platform.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Tammany held a large meeting in the Academy of Music last night to ratify the action of the St. Louis convention. The Tammany lamb, "Thurman," which was brought from the West, all decked in ribbons, was a feature of the meeting. Hon. John Coode was presided, and there was a list of 700 vice-presidents and secretaries. Resolutions were passed ratifying the nominations made and the platform put forth by the convention. Governor Hill was the principal speaker, and he heartily indorsed the ticket named at St. Louis and the platform adopted. He predicted that notwithstanding the attitude of the Republican representatives in Congress and their persistent opposition to all measures for relief from taxation, the coming Chicago convention would explicitly declare in favor of some revision of the tariff. Addresses were also made by Congressman Cockrane and ex-Governor Abbett, of New Jersey.

Maine Republicans.

PORTLAND, Me., June 13.—The Maine State Republican convention held here Tuesday nominated Mr. Burleigh for Governor on the first ballot. The resolutions denounce the President's message, the Mills bill, and free trade, and censure the Government for its course in the fisheries dispute. President Cleveland is charged with hypocrisy in the enforcement of the civil-service law; and prohibition is indorsed. The mention of Mr. Blaine evoked great enthusiasm.

Twelve Cents Damage for Libel.

NEW YORK, June 13.—In the suit of Miss Minnie Terry against the wife of Mr. Perine for $10,000 damages for libel, the jury brought in a sealed verdict awarding the plaintiff twelve cents damages.

Vermont Prohibitionists.

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 13.—The Prohibitionists held their State convention here yesterday and named a full ticket, headed by Prof. Henry M. Seeley, of Middlebury, for Governor.

CINCINNATI IS THRONGED.

The Knights of Pythias Have Possession of the City.

CINCINNATI, June 13.—There is no way except by guessing to estimate the number of Knights of Pythias in this city. They were arriving all day yesterday and all last evening. Hotels long ago provided for a great crowd and they seem able to accommodate everybody. Private houses are accommodating great numbers of the visitors who happen to be relatives of the faithful. All street cars, all day and all evening, and every suburban railway train was full of uniformed men. There was no suburb of the city in which they were not to be found. The day was devoted to social meetings and to sight seeing, and the evening to a general social meeting at the Highland House, where there was a brilliant display of fire-works. The weather has been fine and everybody seems delighted. Only a few secret business meetings were held.

Garrett's Remains Found.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—The body of T. Harrison Garrett, who was drowned on Thursday night last by the sinking of the yacht Gleam, has been recovered. It was found a mile distant from the spot where the accident occurred. The steamer Nanticoke brought the remains to Baltimore. The remains were in an unexpectedly good condition.

A Shingle-Mill Burned.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., June 13.—The Mississippi Logging Company's shingle-mill and boarding house, together with two shingle-sheds and contents and other buildings burned yesterday. Loss, $35,000; insurance not known. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin as the shingle-mill was not in operation this season.

Suicide of an Anarchist.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 13.—Frederick Workman, a leading Anarchist here, committed suicide yesterday morning in the city prison. Workman obtained some notoriety just before the Chicago Anarchists were hanged by endeavoring to organize a scheme to rescue them, but could get no one to join him.

MANY BOOMS.

Republican Candidates and Their Friends Hopeful.

DEPEW DECLINES TO WITHDRAW.

DEPEW STILL IN THE RING.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Until yesterday it was believed that Mr. Depew would not be a candidate for the Presidency. It was announced Monday upon good authority that he had withdrawn. A telegram was received yesterday afternoon, however, saying that Mr. Depew declined to withdraw and would stand subject to the action of his friends. This puts the people who were fighting on votes from New York all at sea. There are many able Republicans who now believe that the name of Mr. Depew is being used in the interests of Mr. Blaine; that Depew would have withdrawn had it not been that he or his friends believe that to keep his name in the field will go far to complicate affairs and bring about a deadlock, which will create a necessity for calling upon the plumed knight.

THE SECOND PLACE.

Senator Hawley has his lightning-rod erected at full length in the hopes that the political electric fluid will strike him for second place on the ticket. An intimate friend of the Senator said yesterday that if the General were selected as the Vice-Presidential standard-bearer he would not feel at liberty to decline, though he was in no sense seeking the place.

All the New Jersey men are wildly enthusiastic for the candidacy of William Walter Phelps. They claim that a ticket made up of Harrison and Phelps, or Allison and Phelps, would be impregnable in their State. His selection, they say, would do much to remove the complication now existing in New Jersey affairs and pave the way for ex-Senator Sewell's return to the United States Senate.

The other presumably doubtful State, New York, still insists that if a New York man is not chosen for the first place the State must be represented by the candidate for the Vice-Presidency. Levi P. Morton's name will be presented and will receive, it is said, the united support of the New York delegation.

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—Governor Foraker said last evening in regard to the talk about himself as a Vice Presidential candidate:

"I am not a candidate for either first or second place, and shall not be. I have said this often enough to make it unnecessary for me to say it much oftener, I hope. If people talk about me in that relation it is without my desire that they should do so, and it is beyond my power to prevent them from doing so. I do not imagine, however, that anybody will think or speak seriously of me in that way."

THE ALGER BOOMERS.

DETROIT, Mich., June 13.—From present indications the special Alger train will be called upon to carry to Chicago Monday over 2,000 members of the Alger clubs. The Fourth Regiment Band will accompany the clubs. Arrived at Chicago, the clubs will form under the marshalship of General Trowbridge and make a tour of the principal hotels. Detroit artists will be sent over in advance to put up Alger decorations. "Gath" had special business in Detroit with Governor Alger yesterday. He says in an interview that if he were betting he would stake on Alger against the field. F. C. Hecker, of this city, is managing Alger's campaign. He is now in Chicago.

DEPEW WOULD ACCEPT.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Times publishes the following interview with Mr Depew: "Major Bundy, of the Mail and Express, is reported as saying in reply to a question as to whether or not you would accept the nomination, you said: 'I would. Who would not?'"

"That is exactly what I said to Major Bundy's presence," replied Mr. Depew, "and that explains my position exactly. If the nomination should be tendered me by the convention I would accept it. Who would not? I do not desire the nomination; I do not want it; but there is something more than ones personal wishes to be considered. If the leaders of the party decide that I should be the man to head the ticket, I think it would be my duty to waive all personal matters and for the good of the party, of the country perhaps, accept the nomination. Who would not do so? Who could refuse?"

CHAIRMAN JONES READY TO START.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 13.—Chairman B. F. Jones, of the National Republican Committee, will leave for Chicago Wednesday. He was asked yesterday: "Mr. Jones, as there are only a few days left before the convention, what is your estimate of the situation? whom do you think will be nominated?"

"I have no idea. I go into this convention as innocent of any ideas on that subject as yourself; and, perhaps, more so. I think, with a good ticket, we stand a splendid chance of winning, and the ticket we shall nominate can not fail to be a good one. There is nothing, I think, in these recent Blaine reports."

INDIANA FOR HARRISON.

CHICAGO, June 13.—John C. New, National committeeman and editor of the Indianapolis Journal, arrived in the city last night. "Indiana comes to this convention," said he, "asking for the nomination of General Ben Harrison in the name of the Republicans and all the Republicans of the State. He is the choice of every district and every county and township in the State. He can carry Indiana for his party. We know he can do it, but we do not know that any other man can."

LIGHTING THE CONVENTION HALL.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The artificial lighting of the convention hall was tested last night in the presence of a number of spectators. It was the universal verdict that there never was a convention hall lit like this one. It is certainly artistic. There are 2,800 Edison incandescent lamps in use, each of sixteen-candle power. The main effect in their arrangement is the National stars and stripes. Across the main ceiling are five circles, or half-crescents, of about sixty lamps each. Interspersed with these, and crossing them at right angles, are five rows of stars, there being four stars in each row. At the bottom of the circles are waving rows of lamps to give the effect of drapery. On opposite walls in the center of the buildings are two large circles of twelve stars each. In these circles will be hung portraits of Grant and Lincoln, so that when the lights are on they will be surrounded by living stars. The galleries and stage are lighted in the ordinary way.

The finest effect of all is in a large shield which rests against the center of the proscenium arch. In this shield there are 445 lamps. The globes are red, white and blue in color. The top of the shield is a blue background of stars with a white relief. The center and bottom of the shield are red and white stripes.

The decorations are proceeding satisfactorily, and the ceiling, pillars and walls are already covered with bunting and the National colors. Nearly all the seating is in place, except the main floor, and when the last chair is put in 8,000 persons will be able to see and hear the speakers with ease. The acoustic properties of the hall are perfect, even to the rear of the top gallery.

THEY WANT BLAINE NOMINATED.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Union Republican Club passed last night resolutions expressing the hope that James G. Blaine be selected as the standard-bearer by the convention at Chicago despite the letter declining to run.

FOR ALGER AND MORTON.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 13. — Delegates from the various counties of Maryland and wards of Baltimore representing sections of the Legislature met in this city last night and endorsed the Presidential aspirations of General Russell A. Alger, of Michigan, and suggested Hon. Levi P. Morton, of New York for Vice-President.

PENNSYLVANIA'S CANDIDATE.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The Press says: "The movement to prevent Mayor Edwin H. Fitler as the Pennsylvania candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination yesterday assumed the most significant character. It took such a shape as to justify the expectation that he will receive the support of a majority of the delegation of the State, and perhaps of the whole. The Philadelphia delegates had already declared for the mayor, and yesterday Colonel Quay, while still indicating that he would go to Senator Sherman in the end, announced that he would vote for Mayor Fitler at the outset and advise the delegates from the State to do so. This points to substantial unanimity for the mayor."

WAR ON THE POOL.

Senator Cullom's Speech Denouncing the System.

HE ADVOCATES A CHECK ON THE ROADS.

Amendments to the Inter-State Law Explained—Other Doings in the Senate—Progress of the Tariff Debate in the House.

SENATOR CULLOM SPEAKS.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Cullom (Ill.) addressed the Senate yesterday in favor of certain proposed amendments to the Inter-State Commerce act. One of the most important causes, he said, that influenced the passage of the Inter-State Commerce law was discrimination by railroads in one form or another. One immediate effect of the law had been the abandonment of all pools by carriers; but pooling associations, reorganized and known as traffic associations, still managed to control rates in certain classes of important traffic, as arbitrarily as in the palmiest days of the old pooling system. Special freight contracts had been broken up by the law, resulting in largely increased revenues to the roads. The progress made under the law in the direction of uniformity of classification had been most gratifying, and in the matter of transportation of passengers some very important reforms had already been accomplished. Speaking of the cases brought by George Rice against a number of Southwestern roads, based on discriminations against him and in favor of the Standard Oil Company, Senator Cullom said:

"The testimony made it evident that the officers of these roads acted in concert, doing whatever they could to interfere with business, and the proceedings in these cases demonstrated the shameless subserviency of the railroads involved to the conspiracy influence of the most unscrupulous and unconscionable 'combine' of the present day—the gigantic Standard Oil Trust."

After reviewing the officers of the operation of the law, Senator Cullom explained what was proposed to be effected by the amendments. They had been suggested by the difficulties encountered in securing a thorough enforcement of the law. One was to require a three-days' notice of reduction of rates, not provided for in the law at present. This would prevent railroads from giving favored shippers secret notices of intended reductions, and would result in greater stability of rates. Another amendment proposed to extend the penalty for unlawful discriminations to imprisonment as well as fines. Another was to break up the practice of underbilling, a practice that has increased enormously since the law went into effect. Goods which should come under one classification were, by underbilling, entered under a lower classification. This practice was as clearly unlawful as the payment of rebates. The railroads had found themselves unable to stop the practice, as no penalty could be inflicted upon the shippers when detected, except the collection of full and proper rates.

Petitions and memorials against the evil have been sent to the Senate and referred to the Committee on Inter-State Commerce from commercial bodies in Peoria, Ill., Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo, Boston, Toledo, Memphis and Savannah, and one from New York business men selling over $250,000,000 worth of goods annually. Most of the other amendments, he said, were purely formal and explained themselves. In conclusion Senator Cullom said:

"There is no business question in which the people of the country have a deeper interest, for the reason that there is none which bears more directly upon their financial prosperity. Cheap transportation and equality of rights in its enjoyment are two great demands of the times, and the Nation will fail of its duty if it does not do what it can to secure both to the people."

The Stewart resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement of the offers and purchases of bonds since April, 1888, with the names, etc., was discussed. Senator Stewart (Nev.) argued against the Cockrell amendment to strike out the names. He said that he believed that some persons "dealt from the bottom" all the time, and he wanted to know who these "secret partners of the Government" were. After a discussion between Senators Beck (Ky.) and Stewart, Senator Cockrell (Mo.) modified his amendment by inserting after "names" the words "other than private persons." Senator Cockrell said that the Senator from Nevada would not dare to charge the Secretary of the Treasury with misconduct. He bitterly criticised Senator Stewart, and said the whole process was in the interest of trusts and corporations. He thought they could pay a round sum for the passage of the resolution for the advertising sought to be elicited by it. Senator Gorman (Md.) deprecated the introduction of party politics on such a subject and moved that it be referred to the Finance Committee. Without action the resolution went over until to-morrow.

The Agricultural Appropriation bill was reported and placed on the calendar. Senator Hale (Me.) gave notice that he would address the Senate to-day on Senator Morgan's (Ala.) fishery treaty resolution. A message from the President was announced vetoing a private pension bill granting a pension to Stephen Schiedel on the ground that the beneficiary had not been wounded in the army. The Fortification Appropriation bill was then taken up and went over without action. The District of Columbia Appropriation bill was also taken up and discussed.

Senator Chandler (N. H.) offered a resolution referring to the Committee on Privileges and Elections the credentials of Senator Gibson (La.) with instructions to report whether at the time of the Senator's election a republican form of government existed in the State named, and whether Senator Gibson's election was legal. The resolution intimates that false returns had been made in the State election, and that violence and fraud had prevailed. It went over until to-day. Senator Stewart gave notice of two proposed amendments to the Legislative Appropriation bill, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

In committee of the whole the House resumed tariff debate. Mr. Bynum (Ind.) moved that "flax (hackled), known as dressed line," be struck from the free list. Agreed to. A similar motion with regard to hemp and manila and other substitutes for hemp was lost—70 to 54. A motion was made by Mr. Kelley (Pa.) to strike jute butts from the free list. In speaking to it his time expired, and he made a formal amendment to gain time. Mr. Scott (Pa.) said he was willing to have material amendments discussed, but he objected to motions of a dilatory character. Mr. Kelley said that while Mr. Scott was absent great courtesy had prevailed in regard to the offering of amendments. When he (Kelley) had arisen to make a request Mr. Scott had arisen and silenced him as dictatorially as if the Kelley gag-law were already enacted. Further colloquy ensued, Mr. Scott stating that the interests of the country were jeopardized even by the discussion of the bill. No business man could tell from day to day what he ought to do in order to manage his business. A vote should be reached as soon as possible. He believed in the bill, but uncertainty was inadvisable. Mr. Kelley explained that his only motive in offering the formal amendment was a patriotic one. He withdrew it, and this amendment to place jute butts on the free list was rejected, and the committee rose. After two hours' discussion the House agreed to the adverse report of the Postoffice Committee on the Taulbee resolution asking the Postmaster General for information on disallowed postmasters' claims. The report on the contested election case of Frank vs. Glover, from the Ninth Congressional district of Missouri, affirming the right of Glover to the seat, was adopted; also the resolution in the election case of Lynch vs. Vandever, from the Sixth Congressional district of California, in favor of Vandever. Adjourned.

GRAY'S EXTRADITION BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Gray has introduced a bill to amend the laws relating to the extradition of criminals. It provides that fugitive criminals can not be arrested in the United States without a certificate from the Secretary of State, and that such criminals shall not be surrendered until after fifteen days unless they shall so elect. A fugitive criminal brought into the United States by extradition proceedings and acquitted of the charge for which he was extradited may be tried for other offenses unless the treaty under which he was extradited forbids such action. In that case he can not be rearrested until he shall have had sufficient time to return to the country from which he was extradited. In case the President shall at any time be of the opinion that the person held for extradition ought not to be surrendered he may direct his immediate discharge. The right is given to transport through the United States criminals surrendered by one foreign government to another.

DEMOCRATS OFFER TO COMPROMISE.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee were in consultation for some time yesterday in pursuance of the effort to abridge the five-minute debate on the Tariff bill. Taking advantage of the desire of a number of Republicans to have the consideration of the bill suspended long enough to allow them to attend the Chicago convention the Democrats offered to consent to the postponement if the Republicans would agree to take a final vote upon the bill at a fixed date. The Democrats offered to let their opponents set the date themselves. The Republicans, however, failed to agree among themselves and the offer fell through. The Democrats have not abandoned hope for an acceptance of some such proposition.

COMMISSIONER ATKINS TO RESIGN.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Indian Commissioner Atkins will to-day tender his resignation, to take effect at the pleasure of the President, and will this evening leave Washington for his home at Paris, Tenn., to enter upon an active canvass for election to the United States Senate. John H. Oberly, of Illinois, is mentioned as his probable successor.

A WISCONSIN APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The President sent the following nomination to the Senate Tuesday: Varnum M. Babcock, of Wisconsin, to be receiver of public moneys at St. Croix Falls, Wis.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

A Baltimore Hotel-Keeper Shot and Killed by His Son While Abusing His Wife.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 13.—Peter Alt, proprietor of the Arlington House, near the Pimlico race track, was shot, and almost instantly killed Monday night at 9 o'clock, by his son William, aged 15 years. The shooting took place in the kitchen of the residence, and was the outcome of a family quarrel. Alt's wife says the shooting was done in her defense. Her husband had been on a spree for some time and just before the tragedy he came into the house and, after breaking a heavy cup and saucer on her head, began to call her hard names and to beat her. She struggled with him, and they both fell on the floor. He got a hold on her throat, and she thought that he meant to kill her. She was almost insensible when she heard the report of a gun. Her husband's grip on her throat relaxed, and he fell over on the floor. Young Alt, who is a bright-looking boy, was arrested and locked up, after an affectionate parting with his mother.

Do Not Forget to Catch on This Time.

At New Orleans, La., on Tuesday (always Tuesday) May 12th, 1888, the 216th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery occurred under the sole management of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va. To those interested the returns are very attractive. The first capital prize of $150,000 was won by No. 55,315, sold in fractional tenths at $1 each sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two-tenths were paid to M. A. Kelly, Pittston, Pa.; one to Mrs. G. E. Coleman, St. Louis, Mo.; one to J. W. Yotes, No. 612 G. St. N. W., Washington, D. C.; one to a depositor in the Louisiana National Bank, New Orleans, one to the City National Bank, Dallas, Texas; one to Geo. H. Ashe, Galveston, Tex.; one to American National Bank, of Kansas City, Mo.; one to A. Phillips, thro' T. W. House, Houston, Texas; No. 21,402 drew the Second Capital Prize of $50,000; it was also sold in tenths at $1 each; three paid to Anglo-Californian Bank, L't'd San Francisco, Cal.; one to Mrs. T. P. Robinson, 498 Dryades St., New Orleans, La.; one to Col. R. H. Porter, Birmingham, Ala., one to J. B. Bliner, Denniston, Ohio; one to Mrs. Frances A. Hoke, Emmitsburg, Maryland; one to H. Bunning, Moweaqua, Illinois; one to John Harrington, Houghton Mich. No. 65,349 drew the third capital prize of $20,000 also sold in fractional tenths: two were paid to the City Nat'l Bank of Cairo, Ill.; two to M. Wahgureki, New York, and the rest went elsewhere. No. 84,352 and 90,405 drew the two Fourth Prizes of $10,000 each which were sold in fractions and scattered all over the world. On July 10th the grand drawing takes place when the First Capital Prize will be $800,000 whole tickets costing $20 and fractional parts proportionately. Do not forget to catch hold of this chance.

The Dead Train-Robber.

DAYTON, O., June 13.—The dead train-robber of the Big Four road is now supposed to be Michael Madden, a boiler-maker of this city. He left here last Thursday night for Cincinnati, being obliged to skip for robbing a man at a noted thieves' dive of $30. Madden's description and that of the dead train-robber agree. Yesterday one of Madden's gang received an anonymous telegram from Cincinnati, saying Madden was killed Friday night, and that the body is now in Illinois. Word would be sent in a day or two where to send and claim the remains. It was also stated that Madden's parents would be notified.

Sawed Her Way to Liberty.

ANAMOSA, Ia., June 13.—Anna L. Hower, sent from Cedar Rapids for eighteen years for murder in the second degree, escaped from the penitentiary here Monday by sawing off an iron bar over her window in the top tier of cells and letting herself down by means of bed-clothes. She had served five years, and the first female who ever escaped from the penitentiary. She assisted a man in killing her husband and then ran away with her accomplice.

A New Indiana Railroad.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 13.—The Evansville, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company has filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The projected line of this road runs through Vanderburg, Posey, Warrick, Gibson, Pike, Davies, Knox, Sullivan, Greene, Clay, Park, Putnam, Montgomery, Fountain, Tippecanoe, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington and Allen. The capital stock is $2,000,000.

Renew Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: I am 72 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness; and am able to do my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain." DRUNKENNESS
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by FRANK SHERER, Druggist.

The Strange Vernacular of Bucks County, Pa.

Native Americans Who Talk in a Wonderfully Constructed Language—A Tongue Composed of Bad English and Horrible German.

What is a Pennsylvania Dutchman? And how does he differ from other Dutchmen? In the first place, he is not a Dutchman at all, though he is widely known as such. His ancestors came from Northern Germany and from Switzerland, and he is as unlike the Dutchman from Holland as the latter is from the Irishman. In Lehigh, Northampton, Montgomery, Bucks, Berks, Lancaster and other counties of Eastern Pennsylvania this class of Germans constitutes perhaps half or more of the entire population. They are sufficiently unique in some of their characteristics to merit special attention. There are varieties, again, of Pennsylvania Germans. There is considerable difference, for instance, between the German communities of Lancaster and Bucks, or those of Berks and Bucks. There is difference in the dialects and the habits and customs of the people. The particular variety described below is that which prevails in the upper half of Bucks County.

Their language is conglomerate. Voltaire says the English "gain two hours a day by clipping words." But this German dialect of Pennsylvania is far ahead of English in the habit of knocking off the sharp corners of language. It is a sort of short-hand speech. It employs French, English, German, or whatever else comes in the way; yet it is different from any and all of those. It has very little use for prefixes and suffixes, for inflection and syntax. As there is neither grammar nor dictionary to curtail the freedom of speech, it is a luxury to the children. It makes no difference if pronouns never get an introduction to their antecedents, and verbs never bother a moment if they can't find their substantives. As it is simple, brief and unrestrained in its nature and use, it is correspondingly effective. A Bucks County Dutchman can out-talk even a Frenchman, and before a German can get his mouth ready to shape his robust utterances your Bucks County man has made his speech and is off. Thus, if the German wants some one to pass the butter, he says:

"Ich bitte, geben sie mir die butter."

Bucks County says:

"Geb m'r der butter."

Here is a clear gain of five syllables, or fifty per cent. in favor of Bucks County.

Many articles of the household, the barn and the field have English names; others abbreviated German ones. The following list of ten names, prepared by a correspondent of the New York Sun, will illustrate this statement:

English.	German.	Bucks County.
Horse	Pferd	Goul.
Potato	Kartoffel	Grumbar.
House	Haus	House.
Plow	Pflug	Bluck.
Pig	Schwein	Sow.
Sleigh	Schlitten	Schlay.
Fork	Gabel	Gravel.
Stove	Ofen	Ofe.
Cupboard	Schrank	Schank.
Churn	Butterfasz	Butterfoss.

In its cope and application the dialect is necessarily very limited. It has never been reduced to writing, although an effort in that direction was made a number of years ago by Prof. Horne, formerly principal of the Kutztown State Normal School. It can be employed for small talk; it covers all the necessities of ordinary communication in the kitchen, the shop and the barn-yard. It will do to make love in, and even, to a limited extent, to talk religion and politics. But the moment you attempt to talk science or art or criticism in Pennsylvania German you are floored. It can not be done. You are then obliged to borrow vehicles for your ideas from English, German or such other language as you may command, and the result is a jargon that you can not pronounce and no one else can understand.

A curious fact, which will scarcely be believed, is that there are numbers of people in Bucks County, particularly women and children, whose parents and grandparents were born in this country, who do not speak or understand a word of English. Foreign-born Germans usually manage to carry on conversation in English about six weeks after they land in America. But here are people who have lived all their lives in America and yet do not know the National language. About half the school teachers of the county speak the dialect, and in a large number of schools, while the recitations are of course English, all the conversation on the play-ground is carried on in Dutch.

The elder generation of parents were taught German out of the salter and the Testament. But since the establishment of the free-school system that is necessarily changed, and thus it happens that there is a generation of men and women who can not read German, and who know the English so imperfectly that they can not speak it intelligently nor read it understandingly. But the younger and rising generation is doing better. More and more families teach their children English from the cradle, the schools are improving, and a few generations later will probably see the dialect practically extinct. Within twenty years Bucks County had as many as six or eight flourishing German newspapers at once. Now there are three left, and some of these are languishing.

In the churches the children are at a great disadvantage. They learn to read in English in the week-day schools, but do nearly all their talking out of school hours in the dialect. The consequence is that they know English so imperfectly that they do not understand English preaching. Much of the preaching is done in high German, and as the children know nothing at all of this language except from its analogy to the dialect, they can not understand German preaching. The only language they know idiomatically is Bucks County Dutch; but dialect preaching is not to be had. Therefore their case is practically this: That the children get preaching through a foreign tongue, and derive but little benefit from the same. In the Sunday-schools the situation is a little more hopeful. Here the lessons are often read in both German and English, and explained in the dialect by the teachers.

Wonderful Longevity.

"Talk of longevity!" says the Pall Mall Gazette. "Here is a well authenticated little story of a family of centenarians in Hungary, oil paintings of several members of which are now in the possession of a family at Aix-la-Chapelle. At the back of a life-size picture of an old gentleman there is an inscription, in quaint, old-fashioned German, to this effect: 'Janos Robin at the age of 172 years Graeci Ritus; has been married 147 years, was born and lived at Szodora, his children, two sons and two daughters, still alive; the youngest of them is 116 years old, and has two great-grandchildren, of which one is 35 and the other 27 years old.' The inscription at the back of the old lady's picture is 'Sarah, his lawful wife, aged 168, born at Szodora.' And this happy family actually emigrated from the scene of his long labors as a tiller of the soil, and ended his days, if the old chronicles are right, in some corner of Silesia."

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relied on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at F. Sherer & Co's. Drug store.

A PRAIRIE-DOG STORY.

Deplorable Results of an Effort to Tame These Peculiar Creatures.

"Did you ever see a prairie-dog?" asked a countryman of the Chicago Mail.

"Only those in the park. Why?"

"Well, I was just thinking of a boyhood scene in which the cunning little prairie-dog was a very prominent figure.

"When I was a little boy my father moved from Hoosierdom over upon a broad and blooming prairie in Illinois. That prairie, stretching as far as the eye could see to the north and west, was one vast garden of flowers from April to November. There must have been a hundred varieties of wild blooming plants, ranging from the lowly strawberry, with its white blossoms, to the gaudy, flamboyant wild marigold, whose oriental splendors gave vivid color to miles and miles of undulating plain.

"But this by the way. I started to speak of the prairie-dogs. The flowers were scarcely more numerous than they. You might ride for miles along a path flanked on either side by their villages, which were seldom more than a few rods apart. These villages, always on some little knoll, were populous. The horseman who approached one of them would see a sentinel sitting gravely motionless at the door of every burrow. One could scarcely tell these sentries from bits of wood, so still and straight were they, so much a part in seeming of the great, silent landscape.

"But even if there was a case of 'now you see it and now you don't,' those little sentinel prairie dogs offer the traveler a striking example. He sees them there as silent and impressive as the sentries of Pompeii, and wonders what they will do when he gets closer. He keeps his eye fixed on two or three of them and unconsciously checks his horse, so that the clatter of hoofs may not startle them. He is within fifty, thirty, twenty paces, when—lo! the sentries are gone! He has not seen them go. The earth has swallowed them. He rubs his eyes and rides on, wondering if it were all an illusion. He looks back to assure himself, when—lo! the sentries are there—as still and statuesque as before.

"One time my father trapped four or five of them. I don't know how he managed it; I've forgotten that. I think they must have been young and foolish, like baby rats which venture where their pa and ma would never go. My father brought them home, and we children hugged ourselves in delight as we fancied them as pretty pets like squirrels or white rabbits. A cage was quickly fitted up; the captives were placed in it and surrounded by all the dainties which we fancied could tempt them to forget their captivity. Our parents kept us away from the cage, as the little strangers regarded us with a terror which they did not attempt to conceal. But we went to place more food before them the next morning. The food previously provided had not been touched. The little prisoners sat wearily on their haunches in the dark extremity of their cell. Childish curiosity was repressed till the second morning, when the cage was again visited. The captives sat in the same position, and no morsel of the varied bill of fare with which we had designed to tempt them had been touched. The water was undiminished in the bowl. Another day passed, the third morning came, and we ran out to see our pets. The sight that met our eyes I shall never forget. In their hunger and despair the poor captives had eaten their own feet. The bloody stumps were a sad and sickening reproof of our cruelty in depriving the children of the prairie of their wild, sweet liberty. We felt it, children as we were, and silently, almost in tears we opened the prison door and slipped away to give the captives opportunity to escape. But it was too late. With their feet gnawed off up almost to their little bodies, they could scarcely more than drag themselves out, and creep away into the grass, where they soon after died."

PUGGIE'S TOOTH-BRUSH.

Luxurious Habits of the Pampered Lap-Dogs of Society Women.

There is more to the pug-dog habit than appears to those who simply observe the luxurious habits of the little animals as they are borne about on the laps of adoring mistresses. A six-months-old-baby can not be compared to them.

A girl who never owned any pugs, but who had a great liking for them, offered to take charge of one belonging to a friend who was about to go on a journey where she could not take her pet, says Clara Belle in the Chicago Tribune. The offer was gladly accepted, and the next day an express wagon came with a big packing box containing the effects of dear puggie.

There was a ratan basket for him to sleep in, a bath-tub, sponge and towels with his name embroidered on them, and a cake of pure castile soap on a silver dish; an ivory comb and brush, beautifully hand-painted; a decorated plate for his food, and a bowl for milk or water; several pounds of dog-biscuit in a beautiful fancy box and a bon-bon basket filled with confections to be given one after each meal for desert; a case of homoeopathic medicines for use should he be taken ill; a blanket for his basket and another finely-embroidered one to cover him with, and there were two sets of these, that they might be washed and renewed each week; then there was a blanket coat for him to run out of doors with and a thinner one for the mildest days; a blanket to wrap him in after his bath and one as an extra cover on cold nights; a little harness to put on when he should go out to walk, and chains of gold and silver; three or four collars and a dozen or so of different colored bows for his neck; a silver whistle to call him if he should stray; a ball for him to play with, and an embroidered hair pillow for him to curl up on in the day-time.

"I have not sent his exercise box or his tooth brush," the friend wrote at the end of a long letter of instructions; "please buy him a soft one and use it every morning. The exercise box I was afraid would be in the way, and as you are always well I know you will take him out to walk every day."

PUTTING ON GLOVES.

Never Do It When Your Hands Are Warm or Damp.

A great deal depends on the first putting on of gloves, says the Dry-Goods Chronicle. Have the hands perfectly clean, dry and cool, and never put on new gloves while the hands are warm or damp. Where a person is troubled with moist hands it is well to powder them before trying on the gloves; but, in most cases, if the hands are dry and cool, this is not needed. First work on the fingers, keeping the thumb outside of the glove and the wrist of the glove turned back. When the fingers are in smoothly put in the thumb and work the glove on very carefully, then, placing the elbow on the knee, work on the hand. When this is done, smooth down the wrist and button the second button first, then the third, and so on to the end. Then smooth down the whole glove and fasten the first button. Fastening the first button last when putting on a glove for the first time makes a good deal of difference in the fit, although it may seem but a very little thing. It does not strain the part of the glove that is the easiest to strain at first, and prevents the enlarging of the button-hole, either of which is sure to take place if you begin at the first button to fasten the glove.

When removing gloves never begin at the tips of the fingers to pull them off, but turn back the wrist and pull off carefully, which will, of course, necessitate their being wrong side out. Turn them right side out, turn the thumb in, smooth them out lengthwise in as near as possible the shape they would be if on the hands, and place away with a strip of white canton flannel between if the gloves are light, but if dark colored the flannel may be omitted. Never roll gloves into each other in a wad, for they will never look as well after. There is always some moisture in them from the hands; consequently, when rolled up, this moisture has no chance of drying, and must work into the gloves, making them hard and stiff, and of very little use after, as far as looks or fit are concerned.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous, and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose your own life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Postponed at Thurman's Request.

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—The committee of which Judge Thurman is chairman, appointed to go to Washington on Wednesday of this week and extend a formal invitation to President and Mrs. Cleveland to be present at the formal opening of the Cincinnati Exposition have postponed the trip at the request of Judge Thurman to the last week of June.

Both Were Drowned.

FULLERTON, Neb., June 13.—Two young German ranchers, Hans Tidge and August Michaelson, were boating here Sunday, when Michaelson, to frighten Tidge, who was unable to swim, tipped the boat. Both lost their balance, fell in and were drowned.

Baltimore's Population.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 13.—The police department has just finished taking a census of the population of Baltimore, including the newly-annexed sections. The result shows the number of inhabitants to be 416,805, of which 64,509 are colored.

The Stops of An Organ.

With such important functions as the liver, are of course productive of serious bodily disturbance. When it relaxes its secretive and distributive activity, bile gets into the blood, and tinges the skin and white of the eyes with yellow, the bowels becomes constipated, the tongue coated, the breath sour. Then come headaches, vertigo and congestion of the organ, accompanied with pain in its vicinity or under the right shoulder blade. Shall blue pill be the remedy sought? No, for mercury in any form is pernicious. What then? Experience indicates Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the true remedy for inactivity of the liver. It not only relaxes the bowels without pain, but has a direct stimulating effect upon the hepatic gland itself, the seat and origin of the trouble. All malarial complaint involves disorder of the liver, and of these the Bitters is the most popular curative. It also conquers dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

FOR ANOTHER TERM.

Little Rhody's Legislature Re-Elects United States Senator Chace.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 13.—In the General Assembly yesterday morning Jonathan A. Chase was re-elected United States Senator by a majority of both houses. The vote was as follows: Senate—J. H. Chase, 27; J. W. Davis, 4. House—Chase, 59; Davis, 8; Page, 1.

[Jonathan Chace succeeded Senator Anthony in the United States Senate January 20, 1885, and the term for which he has just been elected will be his second. He is a Quaker, 59 years of age, and a native of Fall River, Mass. He is a cotton manufacturer of Providence. He served in the Rhode Island Senate in 1876 and 1877 and in the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Congresses as a Representative.]

A New York Tenement Horror.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Fire broke out shortly before 1 o'clock this morning in a four-story tenement house at Second street and Second avenue, and in a short time flames poured from the windows of all the floors. About ten people were injured and one man was killed. Four people were rescued from a third-story window. The pecuniary loss is $7,000.

Death of Mrs. Pope.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Mrs. Clara P. H. Pope, wife of Major-General John Pope, died at the family residence in this city Monday and will be buried to-day. Mrs. Pope was a daughter of Hon. V. P. Horton, who represented the Pomeroy (O.) district in Congress from 1851 to 1865, and was 53 years old.

Sore From Knee to Ankle.

Skin entirely gone. Flesh a mass of Diseases. Leg diminished one-third in size. Condition hopeless Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle, the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your Cuticura Remedies, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING FROM SKIN DISEASES.

I have been a terrible sufferer for years from diseases of the skin and blood, and have been obliged to shun public places by reason of my disfiguring humors. Have had the best of physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, but got no relief until I used the Cuticura Remedies, which have cured me, and left my skin as clear and my blood as pure as a child's.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than catarrh. The sense of smell of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into the hands competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Sandford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catharral Solvent, and Improved Inhaler; price $1.

ST. CRISPIN'S COHORTS

"Nothing like leather." Well probably not—that is, if it really be leather; but, nowadays, the materials of which many boots and shoes are made certainly is "nothing like leather"—nothing at all like it! Now, our SHOE DEPARTMENT is one on which we pride ourselves not a little. It's under the management of a thoroughly practical and wide-awake disciple of St Crispin, who sees to it that there are always to the front complete cohorts comprising every kind of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Footgear. The foremost favorites of all are

'THE MORGAN WEARWELLS'
($3.00)

A Shoe which is manufactured from carefully selected bright-finish, "Dongola" kid specially tanned for us: New York opera toe last: sizes 2½ to 7, each size, coming in no less than six different widths, making a perfect fit certain. The heels and edges shine like polished ebony, and the only "off" thing about them is the price—$3.00; by mail, 25c. extra. Ladies can't understand the progress made in shoe manufacture till they've tried the "Wearwells." We struck the key-note in our Shoe Department some time ago, and now the music is merry and tuneful there.

"Try a Pair!"

Our Illustrated "Summer Department" is being sent to all country customers who have been in the habit of ordering by mail. Anyone else interested in it, or in our Illustrated Trunk and Satchel Price List, can get one or either or both free by writing to us.

COIT & CO'S HONEST HOUSE-PAINT

Are you going to Paint this year? If so don't buy a paint containing water or benzine when for the same money you can procure COIT & CO'S PURE PAINT that is warranted to be an HONEST, GENUINE LINSEED-OIL PAINT and free from water and benzine. Demand this brand and take no other. Merchants handling it are our agents and authorized by us, in writing, to warrant it to wear 5 YEARS with 2 COATS or 3 YEARS with 2 COATS. Our Shades are the Latest Styles used in the East now becoming so popular in the West, and up with the times. Try this brand of HONEST PAINT. You will never regret it. You run no risk. Every job and every gallon warranted.

FLOOR-PAINT that WONT DRY STICKY

Ever buy Floor Paint that never dried beyond the sticky point, waste a week, spoil the job, then swear? Next time buy COIT'S FLOOR-PAINT, 4 suitable shades, warranted to dry hard as a rock over night. No trouble. No swearing. Be suspicious when substitutes are offered by Dealers, stating that "they are as good" as ours. It is not so. Cheap imitations cost less, give more profit but no satisfaction and life is too short to waste time and money on them. COIT & CO., of CHICAGO, Manufacturers

—Remember the city hospital this evening by visiting the opera house.

—Another skirmish drill is to be held at the fair grounds Thursday evening.

—An adjourned meeting of the common council will be held this evening.

—A good time for all at David Jeffris' Friday evening. Music and refreshments all for 15 cents.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14 I. O. O. F. occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening—regular weekly meeting.

—Badger Council No. 223, Royal Arcanum, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening.

—Buy Crossett & Bonesteel's Risin Sun, Fancy Patent and Golden Weddin flours of Vankirk Bros.

—Judge Bennett will take up the case of Marsh against the Harris Manufacturing Co. to-morrow.

—Mr. J. A. Warner representing the firm of Herman Behr & Co., of Chicago, was in the city to-day.

—Presiding Elder Botsworth will leave for a three weeks' visit at his old home in New York to-morrow.

—Mayor Winans is announced to speak at a "Cleveland and Thurman" ratification meeting this evening at Madison.

—The annual meeting of the Rock County Association will meet at the Disciples church, Center, Sunday the 17th.

—Miss Lucy P. Twichell, of Ft. Atkinson, who has been visiting in the city for a short time returned to her home this morning.

—Mrs. Henry Mills, of Rock Prairie, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks with inflammation of the lungs, is now convalescent.

—There should be no seats left vacant at the hospital benefit. An array of talent has been provided that will make the concert well worth attending.

—Mr. Frank S. Baines, of Baines, Heddles & Co., tobacco dealers, who has been on a pleasure trip in the east for two or three weeks, has returned home.

—Miss Hattie Benedict left for Fort Atkinson to-day and will return Tuesday of next week. There will be no meeting of the children's Musical Society this week.

—The beautiful rain storms between four and six o'clock this morning and between twelve and one o'clock this afternoon, did a vast amount of good to vegetation in this section.

—The wedding of Dr. O. G. Bennett and Miss Maggie Hanson will occur at the home of the bride in the first ward this evening. The Rev. W. F. Brown will perform the ceremony.

—A piece of falling cornice barely missed making a hospital subject of J W. Bates to-day. It came from the top of Lappin's block on Main street, and skipped Will's head by less than a foot.

—Mr. John L. Lee and Miss Mary Montainey, of this city, were united in marriage last evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Walker, of the First M. E. church, at the parsonage.

—The young ladies of the Congregational church will entertain their friends at the residence of David Jeffris Friday evening, June 15. A short musicale, ice cream. and cake, all for 15 cents. Everybody is most cordially invited.

—Mr. Daniel Ryan, of the town of Rock, and Mr. Joseph Ryan, of Plymouth, to-day took possession of the Ryan livery stable on South Main street, they having purchased the establishment at the stated price of $5,600.

—The Rev. Thomas Walker's home will be the scene of a very enjoyable social next Friday night. Ice cream and cakes will be served by the ladies of the First M. E. church, and a pleasant evening is promised to all.

—The steamer "Enterprise" has been engaged to carry passengers to and from Crystal Springs on the occasion of the Pomona Grange picnic, June 20th. The Enterprise will leave her city dock (east side) at regular intervals during the day, for the accommodation of the picnickers.

—Hereafter the weekly dancing parties at Pope's Springs will be held on Thursday evenings instead of on Saturdays. The commodious steamer, "Mayflower," will make regular trips and a series of very enjoyable dances is assured.

—Quite a number of Janesville people will attend the senior concert at Beloit next Tuesday. Among the singers to take part are Miss Geneva E. Johnson Thomas M. Mesden, L. Gaston Gottschalk and the Chicago Lady trio, all of Chicago, and Thiel's orchestra, of Milwaukee.

—There is some talk of the Light Infantry's making the trip from Janesville to the Madison encampment this year on foot. The plan was tried by New York militia last year and proved very successful. The Janesville boys think they could do twenty miles in a day with very little trouble.

—The water company is now furnishing artesian water from the water works service to all parties who have their plumbing completed. Last evening one first ward water enthusiast was playing with his lawn sprinkler for two hours, illustrating to his neighbors what a blessing it was to have such a luxury.

—Messrs. J. Weinberg and Mr. I. Hilson, of Chicago, representing Messrs. B. Harris & Co., have opened up a stock of clothing, gent's furnishing goods, hats, caps, &c., at 103 West Milwaukee street, The store will be known as the Chicago Bankrupt Store, and the gentlemen are prepared to offer bargains.

—A circumstance that added to the interest of the song festival at Lappin's hall was that the cantata was arranged from work the children had done during the past season. Miss Benedict's training speaks for itself and when the children's musical society reorganizes for another term there is likely to be no lack of members.

—The many friends of Mr. E. W. Lowell will be pleased to know that he has engaged in business at 14 River street, succeeding to the business of Mr. J. A. Blount, in the store formerly occupied by Mr. E. Hall. The store will be filled with a choice stock of shelf goods. Mr. Lowell is a first class hardware man and will do a good trade. See ad in another column.

—Profanity is being encouraged frightfully by a defective sidewalk at the west abutment of the Milwaukee street bridge. In front of the Merchants and Mechanics bank a heavy stone slab has been left, over which pedestrians stumble with much regularity. The annoyance is made greater by the fact that at this point the entire sidewalk is not over two feet wide at the utmost.

—Will O'Donnell, who is one of the champion fishermen of the fifth ward, had a lively experience last night. He was fishing in a boat near the Monterey bridge and some of his jealous fellow-anglers say that he went to sleep. Anyway his boat drifted nearer and nearer the edge of the dam. Finally Will saw what was going on. "Wow!" he exclaimed, "somebody hang on to me. I'm ship-wrecked," and a moment later the boys on the shore heard a splash and saw Will floating through the eddy below the dam while his boat went on down stream. When he fishes next time he will pull his boat up on shore and anchor it to a brick house.

—The medical and surgical staff from Dr. Kergan's International Medical Council, of Detroit, Mich., and Montreal, Canada, will arrive in this city at the Myers house to-morrow morning and will remain until Saturday night. Their visit affords an opportunity never before offered the invalids of this section. Dr. Kergan's staff embraces medical and surgical specialists of the most extended and varied experience and universal success, that there is in America to-day. No person suffering from any disease or deformity of a long-standing, obscure or private character, should fail to call for their opinion and advice at least. Every surgical operation known to science successfully performed. A few of the most difficult cases are especially solicited for free treatment during this visit.

LOCUSTS ARE THICK.

They Are Coming Out of the Ground in Swarms.

According to the "Oldest Inhabitant" the seventeen-year locusts are two years behind. They are said to have been here for the last time in 1869, just nineteen years ago.

But, however the matter of dates may be they are certainly here this time and have brought their families. The recent warm rains have brought them out in swarms. Last evening they could be seen coming from the ground especially in the neighborhood of old trees. Some citizens anxious to protect their gardens were out with kerosene cans killing the insects as fast as they appeared.

When the locusts first come up out of the ground they appear as a white grub about an inch long, but they soon turn to a brown hue, and shedding their skin, develop in two days bodies one inch in length with wings which when extended are about two inches from tip to tip. Considerable apprehension is felt and it is feared that the shade and fruit trees will be ruined. The career of the ravagers, is short, as they only remain forty days. They have a chisel in their tail with which they plow a trench in trees and therein lay their eggs. The eggs hatched drop to the ground, the insect burrows in the earth for seventeen years, and then the locust reappears.

Where the swarms have begun work, especially in Illinois, they have so rapidly increased in number that now they literally cover all kinds of bushes, hedges and trees. Their favorite food appears to be the leaves of currant-bushes and maple trees. They also eat potato vines and arborvitæ.

THE PASSING SEASONS.

Another Successful Presentation Last Evening.

The second night of the Song Festival was even more successful than the first. Marks of appreciation were plentiful and the little ones went through their parts with spirit and enthusiasm.

Among the solos of the evening were "Old year's farewell", by Mr. Ed Smith; "New year's greeting," by four-year-old Carrie Reynolds; "Sunbeam's song to the robin," Miss Elva Crawford; "Robin redbreast's reply," Miss Mabel Lewis; herd boy's song, Master Morgan Wise; the song of the Pink Daisy, Edith Hayward; the song of the Devoted Apple, Miss Helen Cogswell, and the Little Chickadee's song, Miss Ada Crossett. There were also duets by Misses Hattie Peake, and Nellie Nash, by Misses Helen and Carrie Cogswell, and by Willie Denniston and Charlie Bliss.

The singing was admirable throughout, and won hearty applause.

Much credit is due Miss Benedict for the taste with which the little people were costumed. Grouped as they were on Lappin's hall stage they made a succession of tableaux not soon to be forgotten. The floral march in closing was strikingly effective.

RACES THAT FOLLOW.

Where the Flyers Will Go After Leaving Janesville.

BANKER EDWARDS DROWNED

While Fishing Yesterday at Delavan Lake.

CLINTON, Wis., June 12, 1888.
Wm. Edwards, while fishing at Delavan lake to-day, fell from the boat and was drowned before assistance could reach him. At the point where he was drowned the water was not more than five feet deep. Mr. Edwards had evidently become exhausted while struggling to reach shore, and had been unable to gain a foothold.
R. W. CHEEVER.

From the "History of Rock County", we gather the substance of the following:

Mr. Edwards was born in Aurora, Erie county, New York, September 14, 1848. He was the son of William Edwards, a respected citizen of that county, who died in 1878; he was of old English stock. William, Jr., attended school until he was thirteen years of age. When at the age of fourteen he commenced business life by entering the store of S. B. Thompson, as a clerk. He was there eight years He then went into the business as a partner, the firm being H. B. Miller & Co. He carried on a successful business there about three years, and then sold out his interest and went to Milwaukee, Wis. He was there one year; then came to Clinton and commenced business under the firm name of Dickerman & Edwards, where he has since continued to reside. Through his industry and business tact a fine trade has been built up, they being among the leading concerns in their line in Southern Wisconsin.

Mr. Edwards was married May 15, 1872, to Clara L. Morey, daughter of Nathan Morey, of Holland, Erie county, New York, a merchant and prominent citizen of that county.

He possessed a liberal disposition, and as such was one of the leading citizens of Clinton, taking an active part in local affairs. In politics he was a strong democrat, but his was not of the offensive kind. He was a large stockholder in the Citizen's Bank, and for several years held the office of trustee of the village. He had many friends in Rock county, who will be pained at reading of his sudden taking off.

SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT.

County Clerk Williams has received the following official document from the state superintendent, relating to the apportionment of state school money to Rock county:

NEW MUSIC.

Among the new music received are five very pleasing numbers from Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston. First on the list is "With Such a Dainty Dame," a selection from the comedy opera, "Dorothy" by Alfred Celtier and both bright and tuneful. From the collection of songs of Erik Meyer Helmund comes "Star Worship," arranged in English by M. Barnett and worthy of much praise. "Get a Wife, Young Man," is a comic song by J. P. Skelly. When this is said no more is needed. George Cooper's thoroughly-established talent is shown in the song "Be True to Me, Little One," while the music, by Charles Pratt, is a composition of much brilliancy. The last number on the list is "Wise Peter", a song for soprano voices, by Roeder. It has been arranged in English by M. Barnett and deserves to meet with much favor. As said before the publishers of the list are Oliver Ditson & Co.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 61 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 70 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 70 and 91 degrees above zero.

Meeting of National Educational Association, San Francisco.

The next annual meeting of the National Educational Association of the United States will be held in San Francisco, Cal., from July 17th to 20th inclusively, and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. offers a special inducement of a rate of one fare for the round trip to all persons desirous of visiting California at that time. Tickets will be sold from June 14th to July 13th inclusive, and will be good for return passage any time within ninety days from date of sale. Circulars containing full information can be obtained by applying to or addressing any ticket agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co.

FROM DAKOTA.

An Old Rock County Pioneer at Sioux Falls.

To the Editor.

SIOUX FALLS, Dakota, June, 11th, '88

Some one has said; there are two things for men and women to do. To receive and to give. Then as violets follow the spring's first breath or golden fruits crown the season's growth so surely will such receiving be followed by giving.

We acknowledge the benefit and pleasure received from reading accounts of travels and the experience of others, and we give a sketch of a ride through Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota at this time of the year when the farmers are interested in the starting of their various crops upon which they are depending for their bread and butter. Leaving Janesville at 5 o'clock on the 5th, having three ladies in charge, we took cars by way of Prairie du Chien and McGregor, Cresco in Iowa, Albert Lee, Winnebago, Jackson in Minnesota and Flandreau, Dell Rapids to this place.

Before we reached Prairie du Chien, our train consisted of about twenty cars, all full of people; some were on a pleasure excursion; some on business; but mostly to visit friends and relatives who have made homes on the cheap lands of the great west. Like the situation in Rock county, there has been but little warm weather to start the growth of vegetation; and through southern Minnesota too much rain, and the land had not been in condition for planting corn, and much of the ground will not be planted, but put to other crops. The grain and grass was far behind that in Rock county. In Dakota the grain and grass was much better, but here there had been too much rain for corn, and they are yet planting. The wheat looks very well here. We see the early emigrants already here, looking for a place to make a home, and some have their families in tents near here, while the head of the house is riding through the country.

Sioux Falls is a live town and filled with live people. It contains a population of about ten thousand and has doubled its numbers in the past five or six years. The business portion of the town lies in the valley of the Sioux River and the bluffs all around the city rise just enough for residence, and the many beautiful and splendid mansions surrounding show something of the wealth of the city. The city needs expensive grading as most new places do and the main street has been almost impossible, which is soon to be paved with Jasper stone which underlies the town. This Jasper quarry is very largely worked and two trains a day are loaded and taken to different places besides what is used here. It looks like the Scotch marble and will polish as well but is harder.

There is sixty (91 in city limits) feet fall in the river and makes a splendid water power and is largely used for manufacturing. Flour mills capacity 1,400 barrels, city water works, electric lights, 12 church buildings, 14 societies, 4 large school buildings—17 departments, Masonic temple costing $75,000; ten wholesale houses; cracker factory; 4 National banks and one private bank; 4 railroads; gas works; 2 daily papers, 5 weeklies; 14 hotels; packing house; penitentiary; deaf and dumb asylum; university; 4 life and commercial insurance companies and as many stylish bonnets at church on Sunday as you would see in any town of its size.

This town is surrounded by a fine farming country, most of it occupied by thrifty farmers and we see the loads of produce coming in every day. Hay and potatoes are as high here as in Janesville and all merchandise is sold about the same.

I wish I could tell you of a new article of commerce called chalcidonia. It is petrified wood that comes from a buried forest in Arizona. Quantities of it has been sent to Germany to be manufactured and returned here. It is manufactured into things ornamental, beautiful as diamonds and almost as expensive.

There is a wholesale house here that has nothing else in trade but calcedonia. It certainly is beautiful and must go extensively into the ornamental trade with those who have the money. The weather here is yet cold and wet for these long days in June and the farmers are anxious for warm weather to commence as the corn is yet very small and the prospect slim for a crop. The people are anxious for congress to admit them into the Union as a sovereign state, both democrats and republicans, and will not consent to state government without division. The action of the democratic party in congress towards Dakota statehood is making republicans here every day.
A. M. CARTER.

THE BENEFIT TO-NIGHT.

The Concert for the Benefit of the City Hospital Fund.

The arrangements are now all completed for the grand complimentary benefit concert this evening at the Myers opera house, and the auditorium should be crowded. The programme is first class throughout, is one of rare merit, and well known and favorite artists will take prominent parts. When it is remembered that the entire receipts of this entertainment are to be placed in the treasury of the city hospital all should make it a point to purchase one or more tickets and give the hospital fund a genuine and substantial benefit, besides giving those who have so generously donated their professional services a rousing welcome, demonstrating that their services and efforts are highly appreciated by the good people of Janesville. The following is the programme for the evening:—

TAKE NOTICE.

Bring your sisters, your cousins, your aunts to the social at David Jeffris' Friday evening. Let the uncles come and pay the 15 cents admission.

Why pay $2.40 for Men's calf boots when you can buy a better pair for $1.75 at Richardson, Whitton & Ray's?

PRAISING A JANESVILLE SINGER.

"The guests at the musicale given by Mrs. W. H. Barbour, Saturday, "says the Rockford Morning Star" were highly entertained, not only by our own musical girls, whom all love to hear and applaud, but by a charming artiste, a cousin of Mrs. Barbour, Mrs. T. F. McKey, of Janesville, who assumed the role of the bright particular star of the occasion.

"Beautiful in face and form, with a sweet voice of "velvety" softness, and arrayed in one of Worth's elegant costumes, she was indeed worth coming a distance to see and hear, if there were no other inducements.

"Her dress was what is known as a "bird" costume. It consisted of a trained princess sleveless robe of mahogany colored Lyons velvet, cut out in inverted V shape in front, and trimmed with shrimp pink ostrich feather bands about neck and sleeves, with petticoat of shrimp pink faille—which had a choice design in plush of birds on a spray of roses. These, with her lovely face, ivory white neck and arms and beautiful voice, left a picture which cannot soon be effaced from the mind. The ladies were very eloquent over her dress; they thought it complete in every detail.

"The manner in which the two difficult classical selections, Una-Voce-Poce-Fa, and Recitative and Aire from Mozart, were rendered, proclaimed her a bona fide pupil of Madame Marchesi with whom she studied for several years in Paris. She sang with both power and expression, and her charming pronunciation of the liquid Italian, was something which students of that language particularly enjoyed."

"If a woman is pretty,
To me 'tis no matter,
Be she blonde or brunette,
So she lets me look at her".

An unhealthy woman is rarely, if ever, beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, are prolific causes of pale, sallow faces, blotched with unsightly pimples, dull lustreless eyes and emaciated forms. Women so afflicted can be permanently cured by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; and with the restoration of health comes that beauty which, combined with good qualities of head and heart, makes women angels of loveliness. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

BRODHEAD.

—The commencement exercises of the Brodhead high school were held in Laub's hall last Friday evening, June 8. The class numbered seven, one of the largest ever graduated from this school, and consisted of Misses Edna Richardson, Lydia Hyatt, Theresa Schreiner, Josie Schreiner and Messrs. Frank Vance, Charles Parlin, and Albert Ten Eycke. For the past several years there have been but few boy graduates, and these three deserve especial commendation for their perseverance in finishing the course. The decorations of the hall were very beautiful, the lateness of the season and scarcity of flowers seeming to make no difference there. Above the stage was the class motto "Onward and Upward," in white letters, upon a background of arbor-vitæ, and just below the motto, seven stars also in white. At the right of the stage was a large easel covered with moss upon a bank of ferns and flowers, and a panel on the easel bore the figures '88. At the left was a ladder of moss, the lower round crowned with a wreath of the same, well signifying the ladder of life, the class just starting out into the world, standing upon the lower round, their present hold bright and sunny, while far away, onward and upward, was the wreath, the crown, each would strive for. At the back of the stage was a bank of potted plants and on table and piano were small pots of choice blooming plants. The programme was opened by a quartette "Moonlight Will Come Again" by Messrs. Beele and Williams and Mesdames Bulson and Clark, following which was a prayer by Rev. Mr. Prescott; then a trio, "Hail Evening Bright" by Mesdames Bulson, Nazam and Clark. The next on the programme was an oration, "Success in Life, by Charles C. Parlin. Mr. Parlin's oration was well delivered and well written; he said education laid the best basis for success in life though that differed much in kind and quantity; as to kind, one should be careful in choosing; but as to quantity one could not get too much. True success was often misunderstood; it did not mean fame, wealth or always happiness. Many a poor, obscure man makes a greater success in life than Napoleon. Following was an oration, Woman, by Theresa Schrainer. The subject ably treated by Miss Schrainer, she presenting woman in Paganism and woman in Christianity, and closing with the words, "Woman, thy name was frailty." Edna B. Richardson came next with an essay on Hero Worship. Her words were well chosen. Solo, Time and Tide, by Mrs. H. P. Clark was the next number on the programme and was very pretty. Josie M. Schreiner read a sketch upon the "Jesuits in America," and Albert M. TenEyck delivered an oration upon "National Prohibition." Mr. TenEyck spoke very forcibly and evidently his heart was in this work. Mrs. Bulson and Mrs. Clark rendered a duet "See the Pale Moon," after which was an oration "Education a Conservator of Liberty," by Lydia M. Hyatt. Miss Hyatt's oration was very fine, her thought good and clearly expressed. The class prophecy was given by Frank K. Vance, which if it were true would make the class of '88 one of the most brilliant a high school ever graduated. After a solo, "Bid me Discourse" by Mrs. Bulson, the diplomas were presented by Mr. Richardson, president of the school board, and the programme was closed by the favorite quartette, who sang Voger's Waltz. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, and were impartially bestowed upon all the graduates. Brodhead has reason to be proud of her schools and commencement exercises.

—A school exhibition by the younger pupils was held in Broughton's hall last Saturday evening, the chief features of which were tableaux and a tambourine drill. After the entertainment, ice cream and cake were served. The proceeds amounted to about $40, and are to go towards the library fund.

—Mrs. Earl Farnham and little daughter, of Genova, Wis., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Pierce.

—Miss Elsie L. Salisbury, of Elkhorn, former principal of the Brodhead schools is spending a few days in Brodhead.

—Mr. Frank Bowen, who has been attending the Spencerian Business College in Milwaukee, returned home Friday quite ill. He is not much better at present.

A ragged tramp is stylish when you put him in one of T. J. Ziegler's elegant new spring suits. Not because the R. T. is a fit subject for a fashion plate, but because our tailor fitting suits are models of stylish dress. We have many goods and make the prices low.

There is no one in the city can show as fine a line of correct new styles in hats as "Ziegler", the Main and Milwaukee street clothier.

FOOTVILLE.

—Mrs. Emma Tollefson, of Viroqua is enjoying a vacation of a few weeks with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

—Will Smith and wife, of Evansville, who have been spending a few days with her parents here, returned home Monday.

—There will be a strawberry festival at the residence of Wm. H. Dean, of Center, Wednesday evening of this week.

—Will Silverthorn, of Beloit, spent Sunday at his home here.

—The young people's literary society held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. M. M. Snyder Saturday evening. New officers were elected and it was decided to continue the meetings through the summer. The next meeting will be on Saturday evening of next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Silverthorn.

—Children's day was observed at the M. E. church last Sunday. The attendance was very large and the exercises throughout were very interesting as well as instructive. Miss Etta Silverthorn presided at the organ. The church was most beautifully decorated with flowers and the contribution liberal.

—After a long and eventful life of nearly 70 years Mrs. M. Townsend died very suddedly, at the home of her son, Mr. Crawford Roberts of the town of Magnolia on Saturday night, June 9th. Mrs. T. retired on Saturday evening apparently as well as usual, but the members of the family on going to her room on Sunday morning were greatly surprised to find that she had died sometime during the night. Mrs. Townsend had been in poor health for years, yet her death was very sudden and unexpected by all her friends. Funeral services will be held at the church in Magnolia at 1:30 o'clock on Tuesday. Elder Milton Wells of the Disciple church officiating.

—The "Midland Journal of Education" published at Madison, sent out a list of words, offering to send a copy of their work one year to the scholars of each and every school who should spell the words correctly. This list, consisting of fifty rather difficult words, was sent to Mr. G. W. Snyder, the principal of the school. He gave the words to his pupils, three of whom spelled each word correctly, while several of them missed only one word. This speaks very well for our school, for of all the schools reported in each state of the union, this is the only one in which there were three who spelled them correctly. The names of those spelling them correctly were: Misses Grace Braden and Clara Egerton, and Master Joseph Stickles. Each of these now receive the Journal for one year.

—School closed Friday, the exercises in the primary department taking place in the afternoon. A large number of visitors were present and were much pleased with the exercises. It would be difficult to give Miss Dunbar too much praise for her work during the past year. In the evening the youthful effort society, known as the School Literary society and which is composed almost wholly of the scholars of the higher department of our school, held an open session at the Disciple church, after which the graduating exercises of the school, the first of the kind ever held in the village, were conducted. Miss Kittie Ryan, an essay on Progress of Civilization; Miss Hettie Dann—Individual Effort; Miss Nettie Kilbourn—The Marble Wartetb; Miss Grace Braden—Vacancies with Miss Erma Shaw as valedictorian of the class. The essays were carefully prepared and would have done credit to those of more mature years. In presenting the diplomas, Supt. J. Boyd Jones, in a very brief and fitting address, expressed himself as being very much pleased to know that the schools in his district had adopted the graded system, and that the patrons were beginning to understand more fully the need of such a system in the common schools. Mr. Jones spoke very highly of Mr. Snyder and the work done in this school during the last year and strongly insisted on the members of the board employing the same teachers during the coming year. The money taken as admission fee is to be used in getting a library. During the whole nine months of school there were two of the scholars who were neither absent nor tardy, or who were perfect in attendance, those two being Miss Emma Shaw and Miss Mertie Silverthorn. Of Mr. Snyder, we would say it is a fitting compliment to know that he has done his work well, and faithfully discharged his duties as teacher.

—Mr. Howard Snyder took his departure for his home in Minnesota last Tuesday afternoon. He will stop at Sparta, and visit friends there for a few days, when he will be joined by Mr. George W. Snyder, who expects to leave this place on Thursday of this week, and together they will proceed to the home of the former and make a short visit with friends there, after which he will return and attend some school of science at Madison or Chicago.

I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J.
